about the conference

Our conferences have established a tradition of hearing from both innovative experts and from people who are courageously speaking from personal experience.

Our aim is to provide an antidote to the prevailing gloom surrounding the treatment and prevention of Personality Disorders; and to give a voice to those who would otherwise not be heard.

about the James Nayler Foundation

The philosophy underpinning the work of the Foundation is that every person is born Lovable, Sociable and Non-Violent. Personality Disorders arise as a consequence of traumatic childhood experiences and the Foundation is absolutely committed to the belief that in even the most severely disordered conditions something can always be done to alleviate the distress and suffering.

The Foundation was established in 1999 and exists to promote public awareness and to extend education, research, training, support and advice. It now runs an Emotion Support Centre. This will be the Foundation's eighth annual conference. All the proceedings of our conferences are published and will be available for sale. They form a valuable source of alternative thinking and innovative practice in this area.

No charge is made to participants, since our policy is to avoid cost being a barrier to attendance. We have no paid staff – all speakers give their services free: however we estimate the cost of our annual conferences to be around £40 a head. Please contribute more generously if you can.

You will be registered on receipt of the application form attached. Conference packs will be available for participants on the day. Speakers' books will be for sale on the book stall.

Dr Bob Johnson is a Consultant Psychiatrist and Co-founder of the James Nayler Foundation. Formerly at Parkhurst Prison, he specialises in the treatment of severe Personality Disorders. He is the author of 'Emotional Health', proceeds from which help fund the Foundation.
